

Engl. 22395

Language and ideology in children's fiction

John Stephens

LONGMAN

LONDON AND NEW YORK

Contents

General Editor's Preface	vii
Author's Acknowledgements	x
Publisher's Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction: Examining ideology in children's fiction	1
1. Ideology, discourse and narrative fiction	8
2. Readers and subject positions in children's fiction	47
3. Not by words alone: language, intertextuality, society	84
4. Ideology, carnival and interrogative texts	120
5. Primary scenes: the family and picture books	158
6. Contemplating otherness: ideology and historical fiction	202
7. Words of power: fantasy and realism as linguistically constituted modes	241
Bibliography	291
Index	302